A glossy finish is different from polished, in that it is created with a glossy glaze instead of a polishing wheel process. A glaze is basically a glass-like layer added to the surface of a tile to protect any printed design and seal the tile surface, making it non-absorbent and easier to clean

Matt, or matte, tiles do not reflect light and can be smooth or textured. They are designed to absorb light, the exact opposite of a polished or glossy finish

The shiny, mirror like finish shows off modern printing and polishing techniques to perfection, a cost-effective solution for achieving grandeur and opulence. The Polished surface exhibits a full range of tones, from bright highlights to dark shadows

The latest trend in contemporary porcelain tiles, known as Lappato by Italian manufacturers. Think of the 'patina' on an antique metal lampshade, with contrast and depth in color and texture. Our new Cement Milano is a distinctive example

CAROL & VERONICA

Carol & Veronica

The neutral-toned original marbles are mostly Italian in origin, renowned throughout the world for their purity, balance of color, and the vein patterns. A bright white and a clear black convey a solid elegance founded on harmonious combinations. The whiteness of Carol transforms into light, the natural depth of that is rich and varied. The veins move across the surface with surprising natural character. The fidelity of the ceramic reproduction conveys all the richness of the original marble. Light veins slice in Black Veronica design through the black depths with absolute clarity. White and golden traces make this marble precious, ideal for bringing out color or for contrasting with white.

ONYX

Onyx pieces recreate the naturalness of Onyx stone marble with the technical qualities of ceramics. The main innovation presented in this collection with respect to the original marble is the definition of its veins and the strength of its surface. This, in turn, expands the use of this material to interior and exterior spaces and allows the design of fine and unlimited spaces.

GRAVITY

Gravity

First employed at the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries, encaustic tiles gave the interiors of the time a sense of majesty, and they can still be found today in vintage palaces and buildings. Gravity is an updated version of 20x20 cm encaustic tiles that you can use to maintain consistent background graphics and shades. The minimalist look of the collection evokes a northern European taste. The post-industrial mood evoked by the earthy tones of concrete re-imagines the romantic vision of Central Europe oriented towards the reclamation of an ancient beauty combined with the value of artisanal craftsmanship.

Izmir

The Izmir surface, inspired by the aesthetic of simple natural stones, translates into spectacular projects where the living experience takes on a primordial appeal. An elegant material comes to life in minimalist neutral tones. The look of Izmir is embodied in two contrasting and complementary identities: one is natural and simple, the other glossy and more spectacular. Each shade suggests authenticity and elegance. A white and a modern grayscale range.

Wells

This collection defends the purity of white in its 40 cm x 120cm format. The irregular and soft veins allow for an enhanced balance of points of light in indoor and outdoor spaces with beige and cream tones. Also the decor tile bring agility and liveliness to the place where they are installed, be it a sophisticated corner of the house or the more urban contract space. The compositions, textures and colors of this ceramic, with a retro taste, are able to distinguish and enhance the kitchen, bathroom or living room, becoming the center of attention.
